American Citizen. His career of glory through life was unstained by crime; and his death was felt as a loss by every individual of that community, whose political existence was the fruit of his exertions.

THE FAREWELL ADDRESS of General Washington is the condensed result of long experienced, matured reflection and strong anxiety for the permanent prosperity of his country. His advice concerning the great importance of maintaining indissolubly the federal Union: the danger of indulging too much in party feelings:—the necessity of supporting public credit at home:—of maintaining public faith in all our transactions with foreign nations; of encouraging foreign intercourse free frm foreign attachments:—are so many lessons of prudence which we should do well to bear in constant remembrance. Why therefore should not his legacy of wisdom and affection, be so published, as to admit of being constantly before our eyes? An ornament to our apartments, while it serves as a memento to guide our public feelings, and to manifest that the author lives in our memories?

To make it such, is the aim of the proposed Edition.

The Publishers are determined that the Address shall be printed on paper of the same quality and size as the splendid edition of the Declaration of Independence now engraving, & shall in all respects be a companion worthy that great State paper.

As errors are known from various causes to find their way into the most important writings, the publishers feel it their duty, not only to satisfy themselves, but to satisfy the public, of the authenticity of the copy from which this splendid Edition of the Farewell Address shall be published.

MR. GEORGE BRIDPORT will complete the Design; of which the following is an outline:—The introductory part of the Address, in highly finished ornamental penmanship, shall form the upper part;—the other parts of the plate, shall be appropriate ornaments;—in the centre below shall be engraved, from an historical design for this publication by Mr. Sully the Surrender of the British Army at York-town, October 19, 1781.

The Address itself shall be printed with type of a peculiar and appropriate character, designed for this purpose by Mr. Fairman, and to be cut and cast by our best artists. No more of the type shall be cast than will be necessary to execute this Address; & when it shall be compleated, the type and the matrices in which it was cast shall be utterly destroyed; so that no other work shall ever be executed by the same letter which shall have printed the "FAREWELL ADDRESS" of him who lived and died, first in War; first in Peace, and first in the hearts of his Countrymen.

The paper, of the first quality, 36 by 26 inches, will be made by MR. AMIES. The INK shall be carefully prepared, and of the best materials.

The signature of General Washington from which it is proposed to execute a fac simile for this publication, is that which he affixed to the Constitution of the United States, when he signed it as President of the Convention in which it was framed; Thus associating and concentrating some of the greatest events in the life of this great man and in the history of his Country.

The ornamental writing will be designed and executed in the very best manner; the ornamental parts of the design and vignette, will be engraved by G. FAIRMAN: and the Typographical part executed by John Binns. They will take especial care of the execution of their several duties in this respect, and they will call to their aid, all that liberality, zeal and industry can command from the Sciences and Arts, so as to make the "Farewell Address" no mean specimen of the state of the Fine Arts in the United States.

As much progress has already been made in designing and procuring materials for this splended edition of Gen. Washington's "Farewell Address," it is expected it will be ready for delivery, with the Splended Edition of the Declaration of Independence, in the month of December next. That the public may have a more perfect view of the design and style of execution, than can be given in a proposal, of this Tribute to the memory of him who was "a Conqueror for the Freedom of his Country! A "Legislator for its Security! A MAGISTRATE for its Happiness," it is not intended to solicit any Subscsiptions until the Ornamental parts of the plate shall be executed. It will then be submitted for public inspection and public patronage, at five dollars a Copy, payable on the delivery of the Engraving. Philadelphia, July 31.

For the information of all persons throughout the U. States, R. Riggs makes it known, that all of the Banks of the District of Columbia pay their notes on demand in specie; and it would be much to the advantage of the merchants, and trading to the South and west, to encourage the circulation of the Notes of the Banks of Georgetown, Washington and Alexandria, as it will at all times answer for remittances to the large commercial and Atlantic towns;—all persons emigrating or travelling to the westward should be very particular and take the Notes of the Banks of the District of Columbia, as they will find them the most current, there being no counterfeits on the District Banks. The Merchants' Bank of Alexandria has long since failed—all persons should be on their guard, as they will be imposed on. August 18

Baltimore Hospital,

24th August, 1818.

THE board of visitors have much pleasure in announcing to the public, that within the last eighteen months, a large and elegant addition has been made to this valuable institution, in the erection of the East wing of the building. This wing is 152 feet in length and 36 in width, with an extensive Southern projection at its extreme East end. It contains between 30 and 40 apartments, admirably calculated for the accommodation of every class of patients. Of this number are several large and airy wards, intended particularly for the reception of seamen, and well adapted to their various diseases. These different rooms and wards will be warmed by open fires, and by heated air thrown into them, from furnaces constructed on a safe and improved plan. Arrangements will also soon be made, for lighting the apartments in the entire building, with gas.

The unwearied exertions of Doctors Mackenzie and Smyth, the attending Physicians of the Hospital, in their attention to the construction of the building, and their care of the sick, have given a character to this Institution, which is now inferior to none in the United States. In the short space of six years, a most noble establishment has been erected—a thing without parallel in this country. It is well known, that above half a century has been consumed, in bringing the Hospitals of New-York and Philadelphia to their present size, and it is admitted by many gentlemen, who have visited these Institutions, that the Hospital here, is by far the most extensive, the whole building being now 360 feet in length.

The daily increase of the sick in the Hospital, renders it absolutely necessary that the new wing should be furnished; and every exertion is now making, to have it completed, before the cold weather shall set in.

The visitors at their late meeting, examined the Institution with much care—the apartments of the sick in the private infirmary—those in the lunatick asylum—and the wards of the sick and disabled seamen in the Marine Hospital—and they assert with confidence, that the sick and afflicted of every description are well accommodated and carefully attended. They have seen at their different meetings, the private patient comfortable: the wretched marine humanely taken care of; and the sailor, disabled by age, wounds and sickness, well provided with suitable medical assistance, and with every other comfort which his condition may require. Indeed the agreeable situation in which this very useful class of men are placed, does much credit, as well to the Director of the Marine Hospital, as to the attending Physicians, to whose immediate care they are entrusted. Every praise too, which the visitors can bestow, is due to Mr. & Mrs. Gatchel, the Stewart and Matron of the Hospital, for the neat and clean manner in which the House is uniformly kept, and for their care and attention to the administration of the internal economy of the establishment.

Before they conclude this account of the Hospital, the visitors would invite the attention of their fellow citizens throughout the United States, to the Anatomical Cabinet of Wax Preparations, by Chiap, , which certainly far surpasses any thing of the kind ever exhibited in this country; and will afford to those whose curiosity may lead them to see how "fearfully and wonderfully they are made," but more especially to the medical student, a fund of useful information.

The Hospital is under the care of the following medical gentlemen:

Doctors Colin Mackenzie } Attending
James Smyth } Physicians.
Dr. Horatio Gates Jamcson, Atten'g Surg.

ABSCONDED from the subscriber's service, on Saturday night the 15th inst. Negro woman TREACE or TREACY—she is five feet two or three inches high, about 30 years of age, of a very dark complexion, and when particularly examined is very apt to confound herself.—It is deemed unnecessary to mention her clothing, as she has all of them with her, and being extremely artful, she no doubt will change them and endeavor to pass for a free woman. She is well acquainted in Charles county, Prince George's, Alexandria and the City, as about 5 years ago she made her escape, and was 6 or 7 months about the Lower Ferry, leading to Alexandria, and from thence to Washington City, where she acquired an extensive acquaintance among the Negroes belonging to John Brent, esq.; and the greater part of said Negroes belong now to William and Rober Brent, esqrs. and Mr. Dudley Diggs. Negro Treace has a scar on the back part of her neck, occasioned by a seaton put for the benefit of her eyes, which are very weak at this time. I will give 10 dollars if taken in the county and secured in jail, or if out of the county and secured as aforesaid, so that I get her again, 25 dollars, and all reasonable charges paid if brought home. All persons are forewarned harboring or employing said Negro at their peril, as the law will be rigorously put in force against any offender.

French Creek Boarding School.

The following is published for the information of Parents:

HAVING long believed that a School on a plan different from most others in many respects, would be beneficial to society, and apprehending that with all its cares, and the responsibility inseparable from such a concern, I could more cheerfully devote my time to the education of children than to any other business, I have concluded to establish a BOARDING SCHOOL for GIRLS.—With this view I have purchased the FRENCH CREEK FARM, four miles east of the yellow springs, on the Norristown and Philadelphia road, situated in Pikeland and Vincent townships, Chester county, twenty-seven miles from Philadelphia, combining many conveniencies for the support of such an institution; and having let the farm, etc. in a way calculated to supply the family with provisions, I propose to devote my attention, with the aid of suitable assistants, to the education of the children who may be placed under my care.

In selecting the pupils, it is not proposed to be governed entirely by their ages, nor to require that they shall all be members of the religious society of Friends; but as the school rules will be very few in number and very simple, it is my wish that none may be sent contrary to their own inclination, nor any one who would not be likely to be good examples to the other scholars, and treat them with kindness and affection.

The price for board and tuition will be two hundred Dollars per annum, one quarter always to be paid in advance—no restrictions respecting the kind of clothing are intended, nor respecting the frequency of the changes that parents may require; the washing will be charged at the ordinary price per dozen—children may be admitted for one quarter only, and such as are entered for a longer period, may nevertheless be removed at the expiration of any quarter.—The communication with Philadelphia will be frequent and easy by stage, and a house of entertainment kept by the farmer for the accommodation of persons having business at the school.

Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Geography and the use of Maps and globes, will be taught, together with such other branches as the progress of the children and experience may render expedient. The school to open the first of the 5th month next. For further information apply to Edward Stabler, Alexandria, or to

ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE
AND DAILY ADVERTISER.

PUBLISHED BY
SAMUEL SNOWDEN,

Daily Gazette, 7 dolls...Country, 5 dolls.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1818.

Editor,

I send you the following extract of a letter from the celebrated Patrick Henry, to his daughter Mrs. Aylett, dated 20th August, 1796, taken from Wirt's life of him.

"Mr. Henry had been charged with not only deserting his political principles, but with being a deist.—He writes to his daughter on the subject, and in relation to the charge of deism, he expresses himself in the following words:

"'Thus, my dear daughter, have I pestered you with a long letter on politics, which is a subject little interesting to you, except as it may involve my reputation.—I have long learnt the little value which is to be placed on popularity acquired by any other way than virtue, and I have also learned that it is often obtained by other means. The view which the rising greatness of our country presents, to my eyes is greatly tarnished by the general prevalence of deism, which with me is but another name for vice and depravity.—I am, however, much consoled by reflecting that the religion of Christ has from its first appearance in the world, been attacked in vain, by all the wits, philosophers, and wise ones, aided by every power of man, and its triumph has been complete. What is there in the wit or wisdom of the present deistical writers or professors, that can compare with Hume, Shaftsbury, Bollingbrooke, and others?—yet these have been confuted, and their fame decaying, in so much, that the puny efforts of Paine are thrown in to prop their tottering fabric, whose foundations cannot stand the test of time. Amongst other strange things said of me, I hear it is said by the deists, that I am one of the number, and, indeed, that some good people think I am no christian. This thought gives me more pain than the appellation of tory, because I think religion of infinitely higher importance than politicks; and I find much cause to reproach myself, that I have lived so long and have given no decided and public proofs of my being a christian. But, indeed, my dear child, this is a character which I prize far above all this world has, or can boast.

'And amongst all the handsome things I hear said of you, what gives me greatest pleasure is, to be told of your piety and steady virtue. Be assured there is not one tittle as to disposition or character, in which my parental affection for you would suffer a wish for your changing; and it flatters my pride to hear you spoken of as you are.'"

A long day and night.—On the 23d ult. commenced the night of 6 months at the North Pole, and the day of 6 months at the South Pole.

PERPETUAL MOTION.

It is understood that the celebrated Redheffer, who made such a noise some years ago, has not even yet relinquished his pretensions to this discovery. He is now engaged in preparing a very expensive and beautiful machine, by which he means to undertake to demonstrate the principles.—We observe also, that New-York is at present somewhat agitated on this subject.—The Sea Serpent being put to rest, the public may perhaps be amused, in turn, with the ingenious labors of these modern philosophers. [Philadelphia Gazette.

A writer in the democratic Register of New-Haven thinks that when the new constitution of Connecticut is adopted, that real estate will rise in value; and "one of the principal causes of emigration from that state will then cease."

This reminds us of an old woman living on the boundaries of North and South Carolina—who, when the division line was designated, being informed that her house was on the North Carolina side, exclaimed, "I am despot glad, for I always heard that South Carolina was a mighty unhealthy place," [Newburyport Herald.

From the National Intelligencer.

We find the following article of intelligence in the New-York paper of the 3d instant:

"We learn by the Commodore Porter from St. Mary's, that several thousand indians and Negroes had collected in the neighborhood of St. Augustine, and become troublesome to the frontier inhabitants of Georgia. It was even said that they had encroached so far towards St. Mary's as to render the communication with the southern borders unsafe."

We are under the impression that much of the alarm respecting the Indians and negroes in Florida, is without sufficient ground. Oral accounts inform us that these Indians have been congregated near St. Augustine, for the purpose of inducing them to relinquish their title to certain unappropriated lands in Florida, of which, it is reported, a pack of speculators are about to possess themselves, by cessions from Spain of the privilege of purchasing from the Indians. This is the amount of information recently received from that country; and we have no doubt that the Indians are gathered together about St. Augustine for that purpose solely, though we were, until lately, under a different impression. So far from meditating hostilities against our borders, daily accounts are received of the lately hostile Indians coming in and surrendering themselves at our posts.

HAPPY ALLUSION.

At a meeting of a Missionary Society in Plymouth, Eng. lately, a speaker thus alluded to the Life Boat:—

"The world (he exclaimed) is a wreck! We have all been overboard, contending with the mighty billows: but glory be to God, he sent us the life boat! We were taken into it—some half dead, and others gasping for life—and were safely brought to land. And now, what shall we do with the life boat?—shall we not send it off to the wreck, and try to save the rest of the crew?—or shall we be so hard-hearted as to say, "let them save themselves how they can—some on a bawser, others on a plank; or let them go to the bottom?"—Far be this from us! No, sir, we are come hither on purpose to man the boat, to victual and provision her afresh, and to send her off again, to endeavor to pick up and save all the rest of the crew!"

From the New-York Evening Post.

The Editor of the Democratic Press, of Philadelphia, says he is "gratified to observe that government are taking the most prompt and vigorous measures, to rescue the United States from the foul suspicion of encouraging piracy."

It is high time they should do so. They should take sufficient measures to punish the wanton barbarity of these freebooters, whenever they can lay their hands upon them. Not a day passes that we do not hear of an outrageous robbery of some American vessel on the high seas, by these piratical scoundrels. Here follows an account of one, copied from the New-Port Mercury, received this morning.

"New-Port, (R. I.) Sept. 26.

"Arrived at Bristol, on Monday last, schr Columbia, Gilbert, 31 days from Trinidad, Cuba. Captain G. informs, that on his passage he was robbed by a piratical schr. called the Pelican, mounting 5 guns, with 55 men, mostly negroes. They took from the schr. what cargo there was on board, besides 1700 dollars, and also robbed Mr. Williams, a passenger, of 900 dollars. The schr Alonzo, capt. Smith, of N. York, was also robbed by the same privateer, and captain Smith was very ill-treated. The crew of the privateer informed capt. G. that they had killed their former captain 20 days previous."

We add the following judicious remarks from the Boston Centinel received this morning.

PIRACIES.

We scarcely open a paper from the maratime places in the middle and southern states without having our eyes directed to the narration of some act of piracy more or less flagitious and criminal. In this system of plunder, which seems to have become the order of the day among many of the West India Islands, and throughout the whole coast of South America, our numerous shipping have shared a portion of the loss: and as the commerce of the Spanish and Portuguese provinces declines, must be still further exposed to these extensive marine depredations. In this state of things it becomes the duty of the government to keep a number of armed vessels, constantly cruizing in the latitude of these freebooters of the ocean, that our commerce may have no other danger to encounter, than the stormy winds and natural casualties inseparably connected with it. In our marine department will be found a melancholy catalogue of these villanous transactions.

LETTERS FROM ASIA,

Extract from a series of letters, written by an American gentleman while in Asia, to his friend in Boston. The writer unfortunately died by the plague, on his passage from Alexandria, in Egypt, to Constantinople, in a Grecian vessel.

[Boston Patriot.

No. 20—(The conclusion.)

Near the temple are the traces of a large pool almost obliterated by time; which appears to have a communication with the Cayster,—that river, however, is nearly filled by washing from the plains, and in fact the port of Ephesus has become nothing more than a large marsh, rendering Asialouke a very unhealthy residence during the autumnal months.

On the north side of the hill, the Gymnasium, or place for public exercise, still remains in a good state of preservation,—under it are passages which we were unable to explore, from the lateness of the hour and fear of venomous reptiles, which abound among the ruins of Asia. * * * * * *

While wandering among the ruins of antiquity, the mind is occupied with melancholy reflections, on beholding edifices that once presented specimens of grandeur, placing at defiance the power of rivalship, lying in promiscuous masses, forming receptacles only for the wild animals of the desert, and a few degenerate beings of latter years,—yet it is occasionally relieved by observing some, that having defied the destructive hand of time, yet exhibit to the admiring traveller, arts that once existed, but which have ceased to flourish. Where are the decendants of their founders?—they still exist,—slaves to a nation who deny their religion, and treat with contempt, the justly earned fame of their ancestors. * * *

The moon shed its rays on the remains of Ephesus, faintly portraying the distant mountains on the extremity of the plain. Silence reigned over the scene, disturbed only by the bells of the passing caravans, and the early cry of the hyena.

On this sacred spot, I exclaimed, Christianity had its earliest advocates: on the stage of that theatre, now before me, St. Paul wished to convince the pagan multitude, that his religion presented the surest path to happiness—here, from his persuasive eloquence and that of his followers it expanded—and here it exists no more.

Ages after ages have rolled away—the monuments of early superstition are mouldering in ruins—while the votaries of Diana sleep in the silent grave, beside the followers of our Saviour, and Mahomet.

[This was the last letter from the unfortunate Traveller, who died soon after.]

From the New-York Evening Post.

These beautiful lines were written by a young gentleman (a Scotchman) in Columbia (S. C.) and appeared in a paper called the "Telescope," printed in that place, and have been handed to us by a friend for publication:

LOCH LEVEN—A Fragment.

The many vicissitudes of fortune that attended the beautiful and unfortunate Mary, Queen of Scots, have held her up to the pity and admiration of succeeding ages; nor is there a heart possessed of feeling, that does not rise with indignation at the monsters who pursued, imprisoned, and finally brought to the block, the most accomplished woman of her time. The recollection of her faults is lost in that of her sufferings; sufferings so great, that even the brutal emissaries of Elizabeth, instead of exulting at the dreadful catastrophe that closed the life of their helpless victim, burst into tears as they saw her head, streaming with blood held up, with the memorable expression, "So perish all the enemies of Elizabeth."

After the battle of Langside, Mary surrendered herself to the mercy of her subjects headed by the Earl of Morton, who immediately sent her under a strong guard to Loch Leven castle, situate in the middle of the Lake (or Loch) of Leven, where she was exposed to the daily insults of her harsh keeper, Sir William Douglas, and his imperious wife, who having herself some distant pretensions to royalty, felt entitled to insult the fallen dignity of the unfortunate Queen.

A more dismal situation could hardly have been chosen for her prison. Loch Leven, surrounded by mountains on every side, seemed to shut her up from the world; and in a tower of the castle, in an apartment, the immense grated windows of which scarcely admitted the light of day, was the helpless Mary Stuart immured (as her enemies thought) for life.

But under all these circumstances, she found a deliverer and protector, in the brother of her keeper, George Douglas, a young nobleman then in his nineteenth year who had frequent opportunity of seeing her. And who that had a heart could at that age see and not love her? Young Douglas vowed to set her free, or perish in the attempt. He engaged Sir James Hamilton, and Seaton, Lord of Niddrie Castle, to assist him. —They procured a boat, and waited with fleet horses on the banks of the lake, a few miles from the small town of Kin-Ross. Mary waited with conflicting emotions the hour that was to restore her to liberty—when about midnight, of Sunday, the second of May, 1568, George Douglas stole the keys of the castle, and after getting Queen Mary out, he locked the gates upon his brother and the guards, and secured their flight by throwing the keys into the lake. R.

Is it the breeze on Leven's lake,
That flies o'er its waters, and stirs the brake?
Or is it the glance of yon midnight beam,
That flits o'er the face of the island stream?
* * * * *
The anxious eyes of Scotland's Queen
Were bent on the sile.it deep,
Nor boat nor Douglas could be seen,
And Mary turn'd to weep.
* * * * *
As o'er her harp she lonely bends,
The silent tear of anguish flows,
And thus to Scotia's cadence wild,
The lovely captive sung her woes—

THE SONG.

O Leven! lonely is thine isle,
And dismal are thy mould'ring towers,
Where Mary's held in durance vile,
Torn from her friends and kindred bowers

And damp and dreary are these walls,
Through which the chilling breezes blow;
Where gloomy echo but recalls
The plaintive strains of Mary's woe.

Ben Lomond! o'er thy tow'ring head,
How free the Highland eagle wings!
Ben Nevis! nip thy craggy side,
The bounding red deer fleety springs.—

The ptarmegan, with lofty sweep,
Soars from the bosom of Loch Doyle;
But Scotland's Queen is left to weep,
A captive in Loch Leven's isle.

Without a friend to take my part,
Since Douglas' plighted faith is gone;
With ruined hopes and broken heart,
He leaves me here to weep alone.

THE ESCAPE.

Now rapid o'er the midnight tide,
With silent speed a boat did glide;
And bold in conscious love and truth,
Before her stood the gallant youth.

"Oh Mary, dearest, now is the hour,
To fly from my cruel father's power;
Oh fly to the boat, and my faithful rowers
Will carry thee far from these gloomy towers."
* * * * *
He caught her in his faithful arms,
And gently hush'd her wild alarms;
His heart beat high as he wildly prest
The lovely Queen to his panting breast.
He seiz'd the keys of the castle gate,
And dash'd them deep in the silent lake.

"Now thou art safe," he softly said,
And wrapt her in his Highland plaid;
"Now stretch, my clansmen, for the shore,"
He cried, and drew his bright claymore.
* * * * *
And now the boat has reached the strand,
The gallant Douglas springs to land—
And now they speed their rapid flight,
Beneath the fav'ring shade of night;
And ere the dawning of the morn,
They pass'd like lightning thro' Kinghorn.
* * * * *
Speedily onward still they fly,
No resting place had they I ween;
Till Castle Nuddrie's friendly gate,
Receiv'd the youth and his lovely Queen.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

[From London papers to August 18th and Liverpool to the 20th, received at the Boston Exchange Coffee-house and Reading Room.]

The Polar expedition was spoken, May 10, in lat 80, 55, about 8 miles from Spitsbergen. The atmosphere at this time was very clear, and it is stated that they could behold the sun in its whole circle around the heavens. The sea was open for some distance farther, but many flaws of ice were to be seen, and the informant thought the expedition could proceed but little farther.

The London Courier of the 17th August, speaking of the fluctuation of the funds in consequence of rumors of approaching war between the United States and England, says—"As far as any accounts have reached government, there never was a time since the peace concluded with the United States, in which that peace was less likely to be disturbed. The diplomatic correspondence between the two governments is conducted in the most amicable and cordial terms. As far as human foresight can dive into futurity, we have, from the friendly spirit now happily existing on each side of the Atlantic, every ground for expecting a lasting peace."

It is said the French ministry have determined to exclude Buenos Ayrian armed vessels, but to admit their merchantmen into French ports.

Letters from Buenos Ayres of 13th May, state that a treaty of commerce and alliance has been concluded between the American and Buenos Ayrian governments, in which the trade of the United States is to have the preference of every other nation.

Valuable Property for Sale.

THE subscriber is desirous of selling a handsomely situated farm, on Hunting creek, in Fairfax county Virginia, adjoining the Mount Vernon estate and the lands of general Thomson Mason, four miles from Alexandria, containing about 240 acres, 80 of which are in wood—40 to 50 in thriving meadow of clover and timothy—a part of the residue recently seeded with wheat and rye, and clover, last spring—the whole enclosed with a new post and rail fence.—The improvements are, a comfortable and convenient frame dwelling house and kitchen, smoke house, poultry house, granary and stables.—There is on this place a rich and productive garden, and a large body of marsh meadow, from which may be saved annually 100 tons of hay, nearly as nutricious as the best timothy or clover.—With the farm would be sold a number of very valuable horses, cows and sheep; waggon, carts, and a variety of farming utensils and household and kitchen furniture; corn, oats and rye, and 40 tons hay. Also, adjoining the one above described, a farm containing 160 acres, recently enclosed, on which is a brick house, which a trifling expense would render comfortable. The soil is excellent, and a considerable part might be easily converted into meadow.—it would be sold with the other or separately. Also, a number of valuable servants, male and female. To prevent unnecessary application, he would observe, that they will only be sold to persons residing in the District or its vicinity, and not to be carried from it. The subscriber will also sell the greater part of his household furniture, which is new and handsome. For terms of all or any part of the above property, apply to NOBLET HERBERT, esq. or
Oct 8 FRANCIS ADAMS, Jr.

Valuable Property for Sale.

I WILL sell my property on King, West and Cameron streets, being one acre, or half a square, in fee simple, fronting one hundred and twenty three feet five inches on King street, the same on Cameron street, and three hundred and fifty three feet and two inches on West street. There are erected on said premises, an excellent two story brick dwelling house on West street, with smoke house, stable, carriage house, and every convenience suitable for the accommodation of a respectable family. A large two story brick warehouse, corner of King and West streets, now in the occupation of Thomas Swann, Jr. and another brick warehouse, with dwelling attached, fronting on King street, occupied by George Kincaid. These warehouses are built of the best materials, not surpassed by any in town.—Two brick dwelling houses, fronting on King street, with sufficient room for the erection of other buildings, having every accommodation for families—and a large lot on West and Cameron streets, sufficiently large for the erection of fifteen respectable tenements.

This is a most desirable property for any man of fortune who wishes to improve it, or receive a good interest for his money, and offers advantages equal if not superior to any situation in the town of Alexandria.

Likewise, two frame dwelling houses, fronting on King street, adjoining the warehouse occupied by George Kincaid. This property is subject to a small ground rent of thirty dollars and forty one cents per annum.

Also, a lot of ground, in fee simple, containing ten and three quarter acres, two miles from town, on the old Leesburg road, near the property of Wm. Robinson, Esq.

This lot is beautifully situated, having a fine view of Alexandria and of the Potomac—is well taken with clover, and is capable of the highest improvement.

The above property will be sold together, or in part, and a liberal credit given to suit purchasers. JAMES SANDERSON.

THEATRE.

At the suggestion of many individuals, whose engagements will prevent them from attending at the theatre on Thursday evening, the entertainments announced for that evening are postponed until Saturday, Oct. 10. The Philo-Dramatic society feels constrained to add that the receipts of the house on Saturday evening, will determine whether it is to continue its exertions for the benefit of the poor, or whether a stinted patronage is to destroy its existence. At the organization of the society, the members flattered themselves that the public feeling was not averse to the principles by which they were governed; and they felt a conviction that that public which had bestowed half a thousand dollars upon a professional actor at his benefit, would not view with indifference the occasion which called upon it to contribute to the relief of the needy and distressed. But what has been the result?—After performing two nights, the books of the treasurer present a "beggarly account of empty boxes," and the Dr. & Cr. columns leave in his hands a paltry surplus of a few shillings and pence. A statement from the books will be given hereafter; it has been suppressed hitherto only in the hope that future receipts would render its sum total more pleasing. The members regret, in common with their friends, this result. They have employed their time and talents in a praiseworthy undertaking,—and they feel not a little mortified to discover that while the frippery of pantomimic spectacles—the tricks of horses, and the gewgaws of professional players, are liberally encouraged,—the modest appeals of amateurs in behalf of charity, are suffered to pass by unregarded.

Lexington at Public Sale.

On THURSDAY, October 15,

If fair, if not, the next fair day, will be offered at public sale, on the premises,

Lexington.

THIS estate, containing two thousand three hundred and fifty acres, more or less, being one half of the well known tract of land commonly called "Mason's Neck," situated on the Potomac, in the county of Fairfax, Virginia, is now offered for sale. About two-thirds of it is covered with an uncommon heavy growth of white and black oak, hickory, pine, poplar, &c. near the water's edge, whence it may be transported to the markets of the district of Columbia, (a distance of 20 miles only) where timber and fuel are always in demand, and without the expense and risk encountered in conveying those articles from situations further down the river: the remainder is in cultivation, and furnished with every necessary building for that purpose; together with orchards and a blacksmith's shop. The other improvements are a spacious and elegant dwelling-house, kitchen, dairy, smoke-house, office, ice-house, a well of excellent water, and a falling garden, of the most tasteful and costly design, filled with the rarest and most beautiful shrubberies and flowers, exotic and indigenous, all situated on an eminence, commanding a view of the rest of the tract, which extends in an unintercepted plain from the foot of the eminence to the Potomac and Occoquan, by which it is so far bounded as to render the expense of enclosing it comparatively nothing. The prospect, moreover, of the surrounding country, diversified in every direction by sheets of water, is really beautiful beyond description. There are likewise attached to this estate four valuable

Shad & Herring Fisheries:

however, the subscriber intends to reserve one of them and a few acres of land. The woods abound with deer in such numbers, that with a little care a gentleman might command a constant supply of venison for his table; and besides the large streams abovementioned, the various creeks and inlets that every where intersect the land are covered in the proper season with wild fowl of every description known in our waters. When to all these advantages is added the great natural fertility of the land, which is not exceeded perhaps in the western country, its adaption to improvement by the use of plaster, which has been proved by experiment, its vicinity to society, to market, to two manufacturing grist-mills, to which the distance of conveyance by land and water is not more than 5 or 6 miles, it may with truth be pronounced the most valuable estate, of the same extent, in the whole range of country watered by the Potomac. It will be sold entire or divided to suit purchasers.

The terms of sale will be one-third of the purchase money in hand, the remaining 2-3ds in two equal annual payments, with interest from the day of sale, secured by a deed of trust on the land—which will be shewn in my absence to any person disposed to purchase, by Mr. William Allison or Mr. Weston, residing on the premises.

Sept 6 AMOS ALEXANDER.

For Sale,

A TRACT OF LAND in the county of Fairfax, between the Little River Turnpike Road and that from Leesburg to Georgetown, called SELBY, containing from 5 to 600 acres, situated in the neighborhood of Alexandria, Georgetown, and city of Washington. The land is in good order, with sufficient buildings for the purposes of farming, well watered, wooded, and adapted to plaster. As it is presumed that persons disposed to purchase will view the premises, further description is unnecessary.

Terms of sale liberal, and will be made known on application to John A. and Bushrod C. Washington, near Charlestown, Jefferson county, Virginia, or Valuable Land for Sale.

HAVING more land in the tract on which I reside than I can farm to advantage, I will expose to public sale, on the 5th day of NOVEMBER next, if fair, if not the next fair day, eight hundred acres, divided into lots of two hundred acres: each lot has seventy acres in wood;—of the cleared land one hundred and fifty acres are in clover, and two hundred in rye and wheat. This land is situated ten miles below Alexandria, and is bounded north and east by Accotink creek, which separates the lower part of it from Jonathan Janney's mill, where the Alexandria price can be had for grain.—It is as fertile as any land in the county, and as susceptible of improvement, by clover and plaster, as any I have seen. Persons wishing to view it will call on the subscriber, living at Cedar Grove, one mile below Janney's mill.

The terms will be one-third of the purchase money in hand, and the balance in two equal annual payments. The sale will take place at 12 o'clock on the premises.

EDGAR McCARTY.

Fairfax co. Va. October 6

Gunston for Sale.

THIS elegant estate is situated on the Potomac, 16 miles below Alexandria—it is bounded on three sides by the Potomac and Pohick creek, and contains nearly 3,000 acres of land, level and fertile, to which are attached six shad and herring fisheries, two of which command the river channel. This land will be laid off in four tracts, so as to have one or more fisheries to each; these tracts will be again divided if requisite. This estate is level and beautifully situated, very fertile, and remarkably healthy. Plaister acts with an effect equal to that of any part of Virginia or Pennsylvania.—I have used 500 bushels in twelve months, and such is its beneficial operation, that were I to keep this land I should considerably increase the quantity. A manufacturing mill is distant about two miles, on a stream navigable for vessels carrying 1200 bushels of wheat, where the Baltimore and Dist. of Columbia prices are given for grain: being bounded on 3 sides by water, a small extent only of fence is necessary to inclose the whole: it would be admirably adapted to grazing. The improvements are a large and very substantial brick mansion, 40 by 70 feet, with every necessary outhouse, three commodious barns, houses for Negroes, and fish houses at each of the fisheries. 120,000 bricks and 1000 bushels of lime are just burnt on the premises. There is a considerable extent of live fence, both useful and ornamental, two orchards of well selected apples and peach, besides an abundance of other choice fruit. More than 150 acres are in clover, 200 in corn, and land is in preparation for sowing 250 bushels of small grain. Any quantity of hay can be cut from the low grounds, some of which (and all might,) have been reclaimed at a trifling expense. The river and creeks, abound with wild fowl, particularly canvass backs, the woods with deer and a variety of other game. Mules, cattle, highly improved sheep, farming utensils and household furniture can be had. The terms of sale will be accommodating. Property in any of the cities, negroes, bank stock, western lands, or lands near the Ridge, will be taken in payment.—Letters must be addressed to me at Pohick Church, Fairfax county, Virginia

FIFTY DOLLARS REWARD.

I WILL give the above reward for apprehending and lodging in any jail in the District of Columbia, a person by the name of JOHN POST, a Bricklayer and Stonemason, who has been at work for about two months past at Fort Washington, and was discharged on the 7th of September inst.—He says he was born in the state of New-York; is about 5 feet 9 or 10 inches high, and has sandy hair: he had with him an apprentice boy, nearly grown. A few days previous to his leaving Fort Washington he took the liberty of borrowing, in the name of Mr John Cohagen, from a lady at that place 15 dollars, which was not known till after he left it; and immediately after he was discharged and paid off, he forged two checks in the name of the Subscriber, on the Farmers' Bank of Alexandria, one of which he procured the money for at the Bank, and the other he passed to a person in Alexandria, which was detected and refused.—Previous to his coming to Fort Washington, he worked in the City of Washington, where he said he intended to work again; but it is probable he has not stopped so near the theatre of his villany.

Persons are cautioned against being imposed on by him. BOLITHA LAWS.

Auction & Commission Store.

NATHL. P. BIXBY & CO. respectfully inform their friends and the public generally, that they have taken that large and commodious store formerly occupied by the late Mr. Thomas Robinson, nearly opposite the Union Bank, Bridge-st. where they will transact all kinds of business in the Auction and Commission line; and as they are determined to give their exclusive attention to that business alone, those gentlemen who are disposed to employ them, have the best guarantee that they will be fairly dealt by. They flatter themselves that a punctual, diligent, and correct attention, together with their general knowledge of business, will secure to them at least an equal share of public patronage. Their intention is to avoid, as much as possible, retailing goods at auction. They are now prepared to receive goods of every description, to sell at public or private sale, and will attend to sales of property at any place within the town.

Gone to the Southward or Westward,

A YELLOW WOMAN, called Celia Detcher, in the 23d year of her age, about 5 feet 2 or 3 inches high—marks like moles on the right side of her face, which, with several letters on her left arm, were made with india ink. She is about four months gone in a state of pregnancy—followed her husband, Jim Clark, a yellow man, who was purchased from this place and taken away in company with a large number of slaves, about two weeks ago, by a man of the name of Basset. It is supposed they have gone to the westward: Celia was born free, and had with her a notarial certificate of her freedom, and description of her person. Her mother, the subscriber, is much afflicted by her manner of going away, and desires that any humane people who may chance to meet with her, will persuade her to return, being apprehensive that when she gets into a strange country, where she will be unknown and out of the reach of her friends and those who would be likely to protect her, attempts may be made by some avaricious and unprincipled persons, to deprive her of her liberty, and sell her for a slave. Should any such attempts be made, fifty dollars reward will be paid to any person who will communicate such information as shall lead to the conviction of the offenders, and the recovery of the woman.

HANNAH DETCHER.

PROPOSALS,

By Gideon Fairman, John Binns and Charles S. Parker,

TO PUBLISH

A Splendid Edition of Washington's Farewell Address.

To the People of the United States.

THE world has seen enough of warriors and of Heroes—enough of Statesmen—of men who have guided Armies in the field, or dictated as Sages in the Cabinet, for the exclusive purpose of Ambition. History from its earliest page to the present day, has offered to our contemplation, only ONE WASHINGTON, but ONE MAN, whose dangers in war, and labors in in peace, were undertaken and supported with a single eye, to the benefit of his country; whose wonderful and honorable success, was the plain result of wisdom in design, and valour in execution; whom danger never appalled, nor defeat depressed; who, persevering in the justice of his cause, wooed Victory till he won her: who coveted no reward but the well earned approbation of those whose interest he lived to promote: who renounced all public honors, when they ceased to be the necessary instruments of good to the people, whose gratitude conferred them: who superior to all Monarchs, was content to be called the American Citizen. His career of glory through life was unstained by crime; and his death was felt as a loss by every individual of that community, whose political existence was the fruit of his exertions.

THE FAREWELL ADDRESS of General Washington is the condensed result of long experienced, matured reflection and strong anxiety for the permanent prosperity of his country. His advice concerning the great importance of maintaining indissolubly the federal Union: the danger of indulging too much in party feelings:—the necessity of supporting public credit at home:—of maintaining public faith in all our transactions with foreign nations; of encouraging foreign intercourse free from foreign attachments:—are so many lessons of prudence which we should do well to bear in constant remembrance. Why therefore should not his legacy of wisdom and affection, be so published, as to admit of being constantly before our eyes? An ornament to our apartments, while it serves as a memento to guide our public feelings, and to manifest that the author lives in our memories?

To make it such, is the aim of the proposed Edition.

The Publishers are determined that the Address shall be printed on paper of the same quality and size as the splendid edition of the Declaration of Independence now engraving, & shall in all respects be a companion worthy that great State paper.

As errors are known from various causes to find their way into the most important writings, the publishers feel it their duty, not only to satisfy themselves, but to satisfy the public, of the authenticity of the copy from which this splendid Edition of the Farewell Address shall be published.

MR. GEORGE BRIDPORT will complete the Design; of which the following is an outline:—The introductory part of the Address, in highly finished ornamental penmanship, shall form the upper part;—the other parts of the plate, shall be appropriate ornaments;—in the centre below shall be engraved, from an historical design for this publication by Mr. Sully the Surrender of the British Army at York-town, October 19, 1781.

The Address itself shall be printed with type of a peculiar and appropriate character, designed for this purpose by Mr. Fairman, and to be cut and cast by our best artists. No more of the type shall be cast than will be necessary to execute this Address; & when it shall be compleated, the type and the matrices in which it was cast shall be utterly destroyed; so that no other work shall ever be executed by the same letter which shall have printed the "FAREWELL ADDRESS" of him who lived and died, first in War; first in Peace, and first in the hearts of his Countrymen.

The paper, of the first quality, 36 by 26 inches, will be made by Mr. Amies. The INK shall be carefully prepared, and of the best materials.

The signature of General Washington from which it is proposed to execute a fac simile for this publication, is that which he affixed to the Constitution of the United States, when he signed it as President of the Convention in which it was framed; Thus associating and concentrating some of the greatest events in the life of this great man and in the history of his Country.

The ornamental writing will be designed and executed in the very best manner; the ornamental parts of the design and vignette, will be engraved by G. FAIRMAN: and the Typographical part executed by John Binns. They will take especial care of the execution of their several duties in this respect, and they will call to their aid, all that liberality, zeal and industry can command from the Sciences and Arts, so as to make the "Farewell Address" no mean specimen of the state of the Fine Arts in the United States.

As much progress has already been made in designing and procuring materials for this splended edition of Gen. Washington's "Farewell Address," it is expected it will be ready for delivery, with the Splended Edition of the Declaration of Independence, in the month of December next. That the public may have a more perfect view of the design and style of execution, than can be given in a proposal, of this Tribute to the memory of him who was "a Conqueror for the Freedom of his Country! A "Legislator for its Security! A MAGISTRATE for its Happiness," it is not intended to solicit any Subscsiptions until the Ornamental parts of the plate shall be executed. It will then be submitted for public inspection and public patronage, at five dollars a Copy, payable on the delivery of the Engraving. Philadelphia, July 31.
